THE ACMES WERE EASY

For the East Liverpool Club Saturday.

DEFEATED THEM IN BOTH GAMES

The Acmes Only Score Six Runs and Twelve Hits in the Two Contests—Liverpool Boys Put Up an Excellent Article of Ball—Largest Crowds of the Season.

There were two games of ball at West End park Saturday between the Acmes, of Allegheny, and East Liverpool club, and both were one-sided contests, the home team walloping the earth with the visitors.

The morning game was witnessed by a fair sized crowd, but the Acmes were easy victims for the East Liverpool boys.

In the first inning, hits by Albright, Carey and McNutt netted Liverpool one run, while the visitors scored a goose egg.

Hits by Kennedy, Heckathorne, Albright and Carey, and an error by Edgar, scored four for Liverpool in the second. The visitors were again shut out.

In the third, errors by Kane and Hein netted Liverpool one run, and the visitors were unable to score in their half, Albright making one of the prettiest catches ever seen on the home grounds of Edgar's fly to left field.

Fourth inning—An error by Edgar and a three base hit by Carey scored one run for Liverpool. The Acmes made their first score on a three base hit by Kinney and an error by Godwin.

Fifth inning—Liverpool made one run on a hit by Godwin and an error by D. Crowley. The Acmes scored in their half on a hit by D. Crowley and an error by Godwin. McNutt made a grand stand catch of Kinney's liner in this inning, retiring the side.

Sixth inning—Liverpool received their first goose egg, and the Acmes scored another on an error of Carey's and a hit by Mason.

Seventh inning—Another goose egg for Liverpool, and the Acmes received the same medicine, Carey winding up the inning by a sensational catch of a high fly from Kinney's bat.

Eighth inning—Liverpool scored two on a three base hit by C. Reark, a single by Heckathorne and a single by McShane. The Acmes went out in one, two, three order.

Ninth inning—Liverpool failed to score in their half and the Acmes were again shut out, winding up a very uninteresting game, as the Acmes were too weak for the home team and could not bat the masterly pitching of McShane to any advantage, as he had their strongest batsmen completely at his mercy. Baxter caught his first game for the Liverpool team and did it in a style to please even the most enthusiastic baseball crank. Following it the score for the morning game:

The grand stand was packed in the afternoon, and the game opened with Albright and Finch as the battery for Liverpool, and P. Crowley and Jones for the Acmes.

First inning—D. Crowley made a hit and Kinney knocked one to Heckathorne which he missed and Crowley scored. Kane secured a base on balls and P. Crowley knocked one between first and second which hit Kane, putting him out. Godwin picked the ball up and attempted to put Crowley out, but threw it clear to the fence and Kinney scored. Crowley was thrown out from Finch to Carey. Hein went out from Albright to Heckathorne. Two big runs to their credit.

came to the bat and made a two bagger, scoring Godwin and McNutt. Kennedy made a three bagger and scored Reark. The Acmes here made a change, Crowley going to first base and Hein entering the box, D. Crowley assigned to catch and Jones dropped out of the game, Edgar going to short. Heckathorne hit the first ball pitched by Hein for a base, and scored Kennedy. Finch knocked one to Kinney and Heckathorne attempted to score, but was thrown out at home plate. Finch got the same dose in attempting to steal second and Baxter went out on a fly to the pitcher. Score, 6 to 2 in our favor.

In the second inning Oris and Mason went out in short order, and Blackstone was hit by a pitched ball. D. Crowley made a three base hit, scoring Blackstone, and tried to stretch the hit into a home run, and was thrown out from Kennedy to Finch. Result, one run. In this inning Liverpool made two runs on a base on balls, an error by the pitcher and a three bagger by Reark.

Third inning—Kane managed to get a hit in this inning, but staid at first base, as the other three men went out in regular order. The Liverpool boys also died in one, two, three order.

Fourth inning—The Acmes were again goose egged, not a man reaching first base. Albright started the ball rolling for Liverpool again by another two bagger, but got put out by trying to steal third. Carey went to first on an error by Kane, and Godwin made a hit, sending Carey to third. McNutt got to first on an error by Kane, and Godwin and Carey scored. Reark smashed out a dandy three bagger and McNutt scored. Kennedy went out from third to first, and Heckathorne made a hit, scoring Reark. Baxter got his base on an error by Kane, but was thrown out from short to third. Result, 4 runs.

Fifth inning—D. Crowley was hit by a pitched ball, but remained on first, as the other three were put out in succession. Liverpool was also whitewashed in their half of this inning. Sixth inning—P. Crowley got first on an error by Kennedy, but was forced out at second by Hein's liner to Godwin, a neat double play resulting. Edgar struck out. Liverpool scored one, Kennedy, the first man up, making a home run. Although Hein gave two bases on balls in this inning, Liverpool was unable to get another man across the plate, as Heckathorne, Finch and Carey went out.

Seventh—Oris struck out and Mason knocked a fly to Godwin, and was out. Blackstone hit the ball a terrific crack, and it started for the left field fence. Blackstone started for a home run, but Baxter, by a great running catch, pulled the fly in, and a look of dismay came over the faces of the Acmes. Liverpool again scored on errors by Kinney and Kane, and a passed ball by D. Crowley.

Eighth inning—Crowley went out to Godwin, and Kinney got first on an error by Carey, but was thrown out by Albright to Kennedy. Kane struck out. Liverpool made another run on errors by Kane and Edgar and a hit by Carey. Ninth—P. Crowley made a hit, but was forced out at second on Hein's hit to Carey. Hein was forced to second on Edgar's hit to Albright, and Oris went out on a fly ball to Albright, and the game was over. The score:

HONOR TO HEROIC DEAD

Decoration Day Fittingly Observed in the City.

GRAVES STREWN WITH FLOWERS

And Impressive Ceremonies Held at the Opera House—An Excellent Address by Comrade Dovenor—At the Cemeteries. The Parade.

The one day of the year set apart for honoring the departed heroes who left home and fireside to battle for the maintenance of an undivided republic, was fittingly observed in the city, and not a resting place of those who donned the blue was passed unnoticed.

The morning was spent by the Grand Army in decorating the graves of their departed comrades, and at 1:30 in the afternoon they assembled at their hall and marched to the Grand Opera House.

The stage at the opera house was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. After music by Manley's band, and prayer by Rev. J. C. Taggart, the audience sang "America." The orator of the day, Hon. B. B. Dovenor, was then introduced, and made a short but eloquent address. Rev. Will E. Sloane pronounced the benediction and the Grand Army and band marched to Broadway, where the parade was formed as follows:

- Marshal, P. F. McClosky.
- Chief of Staff, N. A. Frederick.
- Chief of Police and Escort.
- Wellsville Drum Corps.
- Old Soldiers.
- Battery in Charge of S. of V.
- Firing Squad, S. of V.
- Manley's Band.
- Gen. Lyon Post, G. A. R.
- Board of Education.
- School Children.
- Liverpool Drum Corps.
- Orator of the Day.
- Mayor and City Councilmen.
- Fire Department.

The parade marched to the old cemetery where the ritual of the Grand Army was carried out. The strewing of flowers on the graves was then proceeded with under the direction of the Women's Relief Corps.

Comrade Dovenor took the afternoon train for New Cumberland, at which place he also made an address.

TO PITTSBURG.

Many People Spent Decoration Day at That Place.

A large delegation from this city celebrated Memorial day in Pittsburgh, 167 tickets being sold to that place. The chief attraction was the league ball games, especially the afternoon contest, in which our Winnie played one of the most brilliant games of the season. The weather was threatening, and for a time it looked as if the day's enjoyments were to be marred by a downpour of rain. However, the day proved to be all that was desired, and the visitors whiled away the time at the parks and places of amusement. Three o'clock found the Liverpool contingent in the grand stand at Exposition park, and they yelled themselves hoarse on every brilliant play made by the Senators. An amusing feature was the sun casting its bright rays upon the game when Mercer was in the box, and invariably hiding behind a cloud each time the Pirates were retired. Shenley park was a favorite resort for Liverpool people, as was also Calhoun park, where the sham battle took place. The party returned home on the midnight train tired out, but well pleased with the events of the day.

COMPANY E

Praised For Doing Good Work at Akron Saturday.

Company E left the city to take part in Memorial day exercises at Akron Saturday morning with 34 men, including officers, in line. The boys were royally entertained during their stay, and were heartily applauded by the regimental officers as they passed in review. The streets of the city over which the line of march extended were thronged on either side by admiring thousands. From every available point the stars and stripes were waving, and gay hunting was displayed from every building. The inspiring strains of martial music served to arouse patriotic impulses and impress upon the minds of all a full realization of the tribute of respect due departed heroes. Captain Hill commanded the company in a creditable manner, and made himself popular with his brother officers of the regiment. Company E was reinforced by four privates from another company in order to fill the second platoon.

A Girl Wanted to Fight.

Passengers from the picnic Saturday night were amused by the actions of a girl on the ferryboat. During the trip she was jostled, and not liking the action, she slapped a boy next to her on the mouth and hit another young man on the head with her fist, crushing his hat. The girl was evidently not from this city, as she called the boys "Liverpool rats."

COURT NEWS.

Two Actions Were Filed at Lisbon This Morning.

Lisbon, June 1.—William Wernet filed an action this morning against William Vaughn, the First National bank and Firestone Bros., asking for a judgment which is claimed due on a promissory note. The note is secured by a mortgage on property in Center township.

Henry Sultner, of Hanover, was placed under bond by the mayor of that village Saturday, to answer before common pleas court for threatening the life of Charles A. Deville. The plaintiff states that Sultner has threatened to shoot him a number of times and that he fears for his life.

A SMALL BLAZE.

Charles A. Tucker's Grocery Store Burned Out.

Charles A. Tucker's grocery store, West Market street, was completely gutted by fire last night. The alarm was turned in a few minutes after 11 o'clock, and the fire department responded in their usual prompt manner, making a quick run. When they arrived on the scene the water was not turned on, as the fire was confined to the stock alone, and was quickly extinguished with the aid of the Babcocks. The stock in the store is a most total loss, as the fire had evidently burned for some time before it was discovered. How it started is a mystery, as there was no fire of any kind in the store room when closed.

WITH NEURALGIA.

A Boy Falls to the Pavement Saturday Evening.

Saturday evening when the streets were crowded the 14-year-old son of Rafe Scruggs, of Avondale street, was seized with an attack of neuralgia on Sixth street in front of a meat market. The lad was

SUMMARY.

Two base hits--Albright, 2; Reark, 2.
Three base hits--Reark, 2; Kennedy, D. Crowley.
Home run--Kennedy.
Bases on balls--By Albright, 1; by Hein, 3.
Hit by pitcher--By Albright, 2; by Hein, 1.
Struck out--By Albright, 2; by Hein, 1.
Passed balls--Crowley 3.
Time of game, 2:10.
Umpire--McShane.

Notes.

The Acmes were a very poor team, but the home team put up two games that would be hard to beat.

The number of ladies that tarred out to see the games was indeed a pleasing feature.

The management of the club will do a great deal to please their patrons if they will keep the small boys off of the grandstand, or out of the grounds altogether.

The number of dead beats at the afternoon game was unusually large.

HONOR TO HEROIC DEAD

Decoration Day Fittingly Observed in the City.

GRAVES STREWN WITH FLOWERS

And Impressive Ceremonies Held at the Opera House--An Excellent Address by Comrade Dovenor--At the Cemeteries, The Parade.

The one day of the year set apart for honoring the departed heroes who left home and fireside to battle for the maintenance of an undivided republic, was fittingly observed in the city, and not a resting place of those who donned the blue was passed unnoticed.

The morning was spent by the Grand Army in decorating the graves of their departed comrades, and at 1:30 in the afternoon they assembled at their hall and marched to the Grand Opera House.

The stage at the opera house was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. After music by Manley's band, and prayer by Rev. J. C. Taggart, the audience sang "America." The orator of the day, Hon. B. B. Dovenor, was then introduced, and made a short but eloquent address. Rev. Will E. Sloane pronounced the benediction and the Grand Army and band marched to Broadway, where the parade was formed as follows:

Marshal, P. F. McClosky,
Chief of Staff, N. A. Frederick,
Chief of Police and Escort,
Wellsville Drum Corps,
Old Soldiers,
Battery in Charge of S. of V.
Firing Squad, S. of V.
Manley's Band,
Gen. Lyon Post, G. A. R.
Board of Education,
School Children,
Liverpool Drum Corps,
Orator of the Day,
Mayor and City Councilmen,
Fire Department.

The parade marched to the old cemetery where the ritual of the Grand Army was carried out. The strewing of flowers on the graves was then proceeded with under the direction of the Women's Relief Corps.

Comrade Dovenor took the afternoon train for New Cumberland, at which place he also made an address.

TO PITTSBURG.

Many People Spent Decoration Day at That Place.

A large delegation from this city celebrated Memorial day in Pittsburg, 167 tickets being sold to that place. The chief attraction was the league ball games, especially the afternoon contest, in which our Winnie played one of the most brilliant games of the season. The weather was threatening, and for a time it looked as if the day's enjoyments were to be marred by a downpour of rain. However, the day proved to be all that was desired, and the visitors whiled away the time at the parks and places of amusement. Three o'clock found the Liverpool contingent in the grand stand at Exposition park, and they yelled themselves hoarse on every brilliant play made by the Senators. An amusing feature was the sun casting its bright rays upon the game when Mercer was in the box, and invariably hiding behind a cloud each time the Pirates were retired. Schenley park was a favorite resort for Liverpool people, as was also Calhoun park, where the sham battle took place. The party returned home on the midnight train tired out, but well pleased with the events of the day.

COMPANY E

Praised For Doing Good Work at Akron Saturday.

Company E left the city to take part in Memorial Day exercises at Akron Saturday morning with 34 men, including officers, in line. The boys were royally entertained during their stay, and were heartily applauded by the regimental officers as they passed in review. The streets of the city over which the line of march extended were thronged on either side by admiring thousands. From every available point the stars and stripes were waving, and gay bunting was displayed from every building. The inspiring strains of martial music served to arouse patriotic impulses and impress upon the minds of all a full realization of the tribute of respect due departed heroes. Captain Hill commanded the company in a creditable manner, and made himself popular with his brother officers of the regiment. Company E was reinforced by four privates from another company in order to fill the second platoon.

A Girl Wanted to Fight.

Passengers from the picnic Saturday night were amused by the actions of a girl on the ferryboat. During the trip she was jostled, and not liking the action, she slapped a boy next to her on the mouth and hit another young man on the head with her fist, crushing his hat. The girl was evidently not from this city, as she called the boys "Liverpool rats."

COURT NEWS.

Two Actions Were Filed at Lisbon This Morning.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, June 1.--William Wernet filed an action this morning against William Vaughn, the First National bank and Firestone Bros., asking for a judgment which is claimed due on a promissory note. The note is secured by a mortgage on property in Center township.

Henry Sultner, of Hanover, was placed under bond by the mayor of that village Saturday, to answer before common pleas court for threatening the life of Charles A. Deville. The plaintiff states that Sultner has threatened to shoot him a number of times and that he fears for his life.

A SMALL BLAZE.

Charles A. Tucker's Grocery Store Burned Out.

Charles A. Tucker's grocery store, West Market street, was completely gutted by fire last night. The alarm was turned in a few minutes after 11 o'clock, and the fire department responded in their usually prompt manner, making a quick run. When they arrived on the scene the water was not turned on, as the fire was confined to the stock alone, and was quickly extinguished with the aid of the Babcocks. The stock in the store is almost a total loss, as the fire had evidently burned for some time before it was discovered. How it started is a mystery, as there was no fire of any kind in the store room when closed.

WITH NEURALGIA.

A Boy Falls to the Pavement Saturday Evening.

Saturday evening when the streets were crowded the 14-year-old son of Rafe Scraggs, of Avondale street, was seized with an attack of neuralgia on Sixth street in front of a meat market. The lad was at once picked up and carried into the shop. Doctor Norris was summoned, and after a short time succeeded in relieving the lad's pain, and he was conveyed to his home in a buggy, where he is resting easy today. The boy had been suffering from a tooth for several days, and the neuralgia had effected his side, causing the accident.

IN WELLSVILLE.

Two Liverpool Boys Fight Over a Girl.

Two East Liverpool boys indulged in a fight at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, Wellsville, last night. It seems that the boys wanted the same girl, and as she didn't show any preference, they decided to settle it by fighting. The police officers were notified and the lads only escaped arrest by catching a street car for this city. From a reliable source we learn that warrants have been issued for their arrest, and it is more than probable that the boys will have their fun to pay for.

Lost His Dog.

John Owen, of Sixth street, was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday, and during his absence from the city his valuable fox terrier either strayed or was stolen. Mr. Owen has been basily engaged today hunting for the canine, but so far has been unsuccessful.

On the Gangplank.

A young man from here amused the passengers on the Virginia Saturday night at Wellsville. While going off the boat his foot slipped on the gangplank and the young man in question fell his full length, narrowly escaping a bath in the river.

To Avoid the Rush.

In order to avoid the rush tomorrow morning, tickets for the Presbyterian Sunday school picnic can be either purchased or exchanged between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock this evening, city time, at the passenger depot.

He Was Scorching.

Robert Harker, while riding his bicycle at a rapid gait near Ralston's crossing Friday, ran into a ditch and took a "header." The boy was scratched in several places, but was otherwise uninjured.

Inspecting Streets.

Mayor Gilbert, accompanied by the board of improvements, is making a tour of inspection of the streets of the city today, noting improvements that are needed.

Played at Rochester.

E. K. Macrum had charge of the pipe organ at the Baptist church, Rochester, yesterday. Mrs. H. C. Fry is the leader of the choir of the church.

ENDED HER EXISTENCE

Wife of Howard Marshall Commits Suicide

IN A BOARDING HOUSE AT ATHENS

Took Two Ounces of Carbolic Acid, and Soon Expired--Left Her Husband May 31--Did Not Live Happily Together--The Husband Left to Bury His Wife.

Howard Marshall, a decorator employed at Thompson's pottery and residing on Robinson street, received a telegram Saturday conveying the intelligence that his wife, who had left him on May 21, had committed suicide at Athens. The husband left on the afternoon train and stated that he would bury his wife in the city where she died. It is known that the relations between the husband and wife have been somewhat strained at times and that when separation took place 10 days ago she said that she would never return to him.

Going to Athens she sought employment as a domestic, and not meeting with success, and being without funds, she became despondent, and in a boarding house ended her existence by swallowing two ounces of carbolic acid. The inmates of the house heard groans issuing from her room, and breaking in the door found the unfortunate woman in the throes of death. Medical assistance was promptly obtained, but the woman was too far gone to be revived.

Mrs. Marshall's maiden name was Arb, and her parents live in the West End. Marshall came here from Athens about 10 years since, and had been married about eight years. All those who know him speak of him in highest terms of praise, and say that he was a kind and an indulgent husband, and always provided for his home. They had no children. Mrs. Marshall had frequently made visits to the home of her husband's parents, who live close to the city in which she took her life.

THE PICNIC

Of the First Presbyterian Church Tomorrow at Rock Point.

Those who take delight in an outing, filled with innocent mirth and amusement, should attend the picnic to be given under the auspices of the First Presbyterian church of East Liverpool tomorrow. There is to be a special train of 14 cars for passengers, with a baggage car for the delicacies and substantial, to satisfy the wants of the inner man (women included) while at Rock Point, one of the most pleasant picnic grounds in this section. The train will leave the depot at 8:05, sharp, East Liverpool time, and will leave Rock Point at 6:30 p. m., for the return trip. The fare has been placed at 50 cents for the round trip.

COCK FIGHTERS.

Two Liverpool Men Narrowly Escape Arrest.

Humane Agent O'Brien and assistants broke up a cock fight on Hog island, up the river, Saturday afternoon, and arrested four participants. Two Liverpool men had birds represented in the main but eluded arrest. Two of the men paid their fines when taken before a justice of the peace and the other pair were sent to jail. It is said information will be made against other members of the party and the Liverpool members may be included, although they think their identity is unknown.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JUNE 1.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

MCKINLEY.

McKinley marched in the ranks with the members of his post at Canton on Saturday. He did honor to himself by so doing. And it was not for effect. His life demonstrates the fact. All honor to our next president, he of the rank and file of the sixties.

STILL THEY COME.

And now cometh M. S. Quay, the astute politician of the Keystone State, with the assertion that McKinley will be nominated on the first ballot. Matthew S. evidently knoweth the cause of his prophecy. That little visit to the next president hath already borne fruit.

PRECEPT VERSUS PRACTICE.

The man who professes the gospel and uses burning words of eloquence while in the church, and fails to face the music in everyday life, when the enemies of God and of right are trampling upon all law, human and divine, is a broken reed and unfit to be a leader of true men and women. This is an unanswerable truth, and time will demonstrate it to be a fact.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The Sons of Veterans were on hand for the performance of duty on Saturday. They can well be proud of the gallant acts performed by their fathers, and take pride in the thought of emulating the deeds of their sires. We understand that the local camp contemplates taking measures looking to the perfection of drill and of manual, and becoming versed in the duties common to camp and field. They could not make a better move, as it would aid materially in strengthening their numbers and giving them the prestige which ever attends skill and success. We understand that the camp is in splendid working order.

THE VETERANS.

They lined up in good shape in the ranks on Saturday last, and, despite the fact that 35 years have passed since some of them first put on the harness of war in the sixties, a number of them could yet be depended upon to do good and faithful service for Uncle Sam in case of necessity. Age will tell, however, and the large majority of the old comrades would, in case of war with a foreign power, be placed on duty in forts and redoubts, as they could not stand the fatigue consequent upon camp and march. God bless the veterans of the late war who did their duty, for, as a rule, the good soldier makes the good citizen—that is, the volunteer soldier.

BASE BALL.

East Liverpool can call together a splendid array of talent in the formation of a strong club, and those who take pride and pleasure in the national game should concentrate their efforts in the makeup of a nine which would be able to hold its own with all visiting amateur organizations. The Aces, playing here on Saturday last, were not in the first class, and their showing was so poor against the local talent, that lovers of close contests were anything but pleased. The home management should see to it that we have foemen worthy of our steel, even if our club is compelled to yield to the local talent, that lovers of the game will lose its interest to patrons. The ladies were out in force on Saturday afternoon, and many of them are becoming acquainted with the fine points of the game.

TRUE CITIZENS.

The ministers who attended council at its last session and entered protest against the 11 o'clock closing ordinance are men of the right stamp and mould, and worthy of the love, respect and esteem of all good, true and law-abiding citizens. Rev. J. C. Taggart pleaded for the shorter hours as a restriction against the awful curse of the liquor traffic, stating that he would not even be satisfied with the early closing hour, as he was in favor of total prohibition; but he deemed a half loaf better than no bread. He warned the councilmen who advocated the longer hours that he had done his duty in the premises, and that the burden of sin would rest upon them, and they would be compelled to answer for it. Rev. John Lloyd Lee was in attendance and upheld his fellow minister in his work. All honor be to these gallant and true soldiers of the Master. They will have their reward. They practice what they preach. Several ministers were absent from the city and could not be in attendance upon council.

STORY WITHOUT END.

MYSTERY OF TWO BEINGS WHO CROSSED THE NARRATOR'S PATH.

The Handsome Young Pathan Prisoner Whose Knife Was Stained With Blood, The Young Girl Who Presented a Silver Ring—Were the Two Connected?

It was on the 2d of January, 1879, that General Roberts left Hazar Pir Ziarat to subdue the Khoist district, an unsophisticated country where the revenue had hitherto been collected in copper, and up to this date the semblance of the rupee had not been known. Hazar Pir Ziarat (the shrine of a thousand saints—literally old men) was hardly even a village, and only the day preceding some six or seven had been added to the number of saints, as a batch of murderous marauders had been executed, and dying in the faith, shouting the fatmah and acknowledging nothing but piety in their attempts on infidel life, their corpses had doubtless rendered their graves sanctified ground, and so added to the Ziarat—in these parts a holy grove, generally of olive, to fell which is desecration.

As the Tenth Hussars spread cheerily into order covering the advance, their bright pouch belt buckles (the last glitter left after even stirrups had been dulled) sparkling in the bright sunlight as they threaded among the camel thorn sprinkled over the plain, the writer diverged from the advance, having to convey with a small escort of cavalry and infantry a long train of some 900 empty camels ordered to the advance base to fill up with supplies. My way lay among hills bordering the right bank of the Kurru river, and I soon lost sight of the force moving on Matoun and finished the day's march without any adventure. On the 3d of January the incidents befell which I now seek to narrate.

In a lonely valley a party of my Sikh infantry brought before me a Pathan prisoner, saying: "Here is a man who has been caught concealing his arms. It has been ordered by General Roberts that all such shall be dispatched. May we kill him?"

Now, this was a hard saying. The young man appeared by his head-gear to be a Waziri, a not unfriendly tribe, which, however, furnished not a few lawless predators. His only arm was the long Afghan knife, necessary for his own protection perhaps, and in the cold weather it appeared not unnatural that he should wrap himself in his thin outer colored scarf, worn somewhat after the fashion of a plaid. His face was handsome, open and fearless, but such was the mien of all Afghans—often seen on the most cold blooded fiends.

I could not, however, though determined to fulfill the spirit of instructions, at once hand him over to the bayonet, and, saying, "Oh, his knife is only for harmless use or protection," I took it from him and drew it. It was thickly coated with fairly fresh blood.

For a moment I could have handed him over to death, but reason told me that this was no additional evidence of murder. He might have slain a goat or sheep, he might have met an enemy in fair fight—questions of course were useless. Finally, with some misgivings as to whether I was strictly obeying orders and amid the scowls and murmurs of the Sikhs, who were quite strange to my command, I gave the young man back his knife and sent him on his way.

He left gracefully and courteously, showing neither in his smiling face nor in his elastic gait one single sign of guilt or fear, and soon his erect figure was lost to my view over the brow of a low hill.

Some hours of march followed, and the care of massing the long, unwieldy line of camels in a column on each small plain, before again filing the next pass, a precaution necessary to enable my rear guard to be within hail in case of attack on so tempting and easy a prey, fully absorbed me and drove the preceding incident clean from my head.

Suddenly I became aware of a young Pathan girl running beside my horse and holding up to me a silver ring set with a turquoise. This seemed to me a very unusual act from a Mussulman and a Pathan, where seclusion is so strictly the rule, and I had no idea as to the meaning she wished to convey, my Pushtoo being unequal to the dialect she spoke, and indeed scanty enough at all times. However, seeing that I was meant to take the ring, I did so, the girl, about 17, showing that she meant I should take it from her. Even then she made no effort to leave, and, so, imagining perhaps that she wanted money for some purpose, I offered her a few rupees, which she refused petulantly. I turned to the Hindoo sowars who rode behind me and asked what it all meant, but they only laughed unpleasantly, as if to say, "What can a Mussulman and a woman mean except what is contemptible?" so that, angry at their scorn and possible misconceptions, I flung the girl back her ring and bade her begone. She left, muttering and apparently still anxious to explain, but a troop of horsemen now appeared on the plain, and whirling their long lances round their heads cantered shouting toward us. The Sikh infantry closed their files and prepared to receive them, and I went forward to reconnoiter them more closely.

They turned out to be a friendly "jirgah," or deputation, seeking General Roberts, but this fresh incident drove the last again from my thoughts, and later on I concluded my march without further befalling.

It was not till weeks after that I thought of connecting the act of the girl with a possible wish to express gratitude for the husband or lover who had such a narrow escape at my hands. But I never heard any further explanation, nor did those who knew best the Afghan character think this interpretation a likely one.

I suppose I shall never know more of the two beings who on that day only literally crossed my path.—United Service Magazine.

A Taking Title.

"Your play is good enough," said the veteran manager after he had read it through, "but it needs a better title than 'Sticketh Closer Than a Brother.' With such a name as that it won't draw."

"How would 'The Mustard Plaster' do?" suggested the struggling artist anxiously.—London Tit-Bits.

They Disagreed.

Seaber—"Not much! He took that $5 bill I was kind enough to loan him last month and has treated it as a joke ever since.—Detroit Free Press.

DISMAL IN ST. LOUIS.

Thousands Visit Ruins in a Drizzling Rain.

FUNERALS CROWD THE STREETS.

The Morgue Filled With People Trying to Identify Bodies—Others There Through Morbid Curiosity—Railroads Run Excursions—Victims Number 456.

St. Louis, June 1.—Every railroad entering this storm stricken city ran excursion trains Sunday. They brought scores of thousands to view the devastation and ruin wrought by the awful storm of Wednesday. The streets of the ruined district were thronged with visitors all day. They came from almost every town and city within a radius of 300 miles and nearly all day a cold drizzling rain fell. Lowering, threatening clouds covered the sky and a more dismal scene than the ruined portion of this city presented could scarcely be imagined. And through the crowded streets all day long came funeral processions. Nearly 100 burial permits were issued by the health department and every hearse in the city was in use.

At early dawn people began to crowd into the city morgue. Many came in search of friends, but for the most part people who visited these were drawn by a morbid desire to see the mangled corpses of the unfortunate victims of the tornado. All day long the officers on duty were busy keeping the people moving in line in and out of the view-room of the morgue. Every few minutes some one would think they had discovered some one whom they knew among the bodies exposed for view.

Superintendent Mack of the morgue had a trying time in answering questions in regard to the bodies, and taking names and descriptions of persons who have not been seen by their friends since the storm. There were people there from points in all directions, far and near—Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, Kansas City and scores of smaller places were represented. From such towns came anxious people inquiring for lost friends.

The mayor of East St. Louis, after careful estimates, fixes the loss of property in that city from the storm at $2,500,000.

Competent authorities in this city say the loss on this side of the Mississippi will not be over $10,000,000. The following is a nearly correct table of the killed, wounded and missing in the two cities:

FIFTEEN WERE KILLED.

The Big Storm Played Havoc Near Carlyle, Ill.

St. Louis, June 1.—Additional reports received at Carlyle, Ill., of the havoc wrought in that vicinity by the tornado Wednesday evening continue to swell the list of dead and injured. Richview and Ashley suffered severe losses.

Oakville, 18 miles south of Carlyle, was visited. Rain fell in torrents, swelling the small streams to rivers. Shade trees are strewn in profusion over the town. Emma Krause, aged 19, has died. Her parents were killed. This makes the total number of dead 15.

The storm came from the northwest at New Baden, and went southeast toward Mascouah. The territory between the two places was untouched. At New Minden it assumed a southeasterly course and destroyed that place, but skipped Hoyton, which is situated between there and Richview. The value of property destroyed in New Baden, New Minden, Richview, Ashley and Oakville and vicinity is said to exceed $300,000. Among those killed were: Robert Foster, Mrs. Conell and infant, farm hand, name unknown, Samuel Oliver.

CLOUDBURST IN MISSOURI.

Two Families Drowned and Houses Inundated at Seneca.

SENECA, Mo., June 1.—The district of Seneca's flood disaster of Saturday presents a picture of desolation. Cherokee avenue, the principal business street is divided in two sections by the loss of the iron bridge which spanned Lost creek. Searching parties are constantly beating either side the stream in search of missing citizens, who are evidently drowned. Of the 18 of the drowned, 14 have been taken from the water. About 100 homes were inundated and two of these, those of Messrs. Andrews and Schmidt, were carried down the stream and every member of the families drowned. A number of families have lost all and are destitute. Many farmers along the course of Lost creek lost their crops. The total loss is above $50,000.

The Steamer Ironsides Sunk.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 1.—The steamer Ironsides has struck a large stone in the Ohio river 15 miles below here and sank in five feet of water at what is known as the Lee Creek riffle. She was owned in Pittsburgh and worth $21,000.

A Catholic Priest Honored.

DUBUQUE, Ia., June 1.—The Very Rev. Roger Ryan, vicar general of the Catholic diocese of the Dubuque, was Sunday invested with the purple robes of the domestic prelate of the papal household, and the title Monsignor.

Brick Pomeroy Dead.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Mark Miles (Brick) Pomeroy, formerly publisher of the La Crosse (Wis.) Democrat and Pomeroy's Democrat of this city, has died at his home in Brooklyn.

MORGAN HAS LOST HOPE.

He Now Expects No Action Favorable to the Cubans.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senator Morgan of the senate committee on foreign relations and author of the joint resolution recognizing the recognition of a state of war in Cuba and declaring the neutrality of the United States, when asked concerning the probability of securing action upon the resolution before adjournment said:

"Unless the house should act upon Mr. Hyde's resolution, which is identical with the resolution offered by me in the senate, that is now held up in the committee on foreign relations, congress will probably disperse before any further action is possible. That responsibility will doubtless hasten the dispersion of some senators. The position of the majority of the senate committee is to devolve upon the president a responsibility that he is evidently eager to assume. Congress has practically ceased to be a factor in the government, except in the case of a veto, when the constitution permits it to act finally by a two-thirds vote. Even this function is denied when it is applied to our foreign political relations."

MAY ADJOURN THURSDAY.

Senators Trying to Make It the Last Week.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The senate began the week with the intention of making it the last of the session if possible. Some senators put the day of adjournment as early as Thursday of the present week, while others place it on Saturday, and still others think it will be impossible to conclude before the first days of next week.

The imperative work before the senate in order to reach adjournment is to dispose of the conference report on the ordinary appropriation bills, to vote upon the bond prohibitory bill and to consider the proposition to pass the river and harbor bill over the president's veto, in case the bill receives the necessary two-thirds vote in the house to bring it to the senate. Some senators, probably a majority, also feel that they are under obligations to press the filled cheese bill to a final issue, but there is a sufficiently strong minority opposed to this measure to prevent congress remaining in session for the sole purpose of passing, after the appropriation bills are out of the way.

Killed at a Rifle Range.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 1.—A terrible tragedy occurred at the rifle range of the Ninth regiment, national guards of Pennsylvania, at Parsons, Pa., at noon. The members of Company E were at practice, and Obadiah Rhoades, the fifth sergeant of the company, was looking after the targets. He gave a signal to fire, and then raised his head above the danger line. The large crowd was horrified to see a bullet from the rifle of John Hippie strike him in the head, killing him instantly.

Death of Miss Kate Field.

CHICAGO, June 1.—H. H. Kohlsaat, proprietor of the Chicago Times-Herald, has received a cable message dated Yokohama, and signed by Lorin A. Thurston, ex-minister to the United States from the Sandwich Islands, which said: "Kate Field died at Honolulu, May 19, of pneumonia." Miss Field was the newspaper writer.

The Steamer Bermuda Safe.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—The steamer Bermuda, which left Jacksonville, Fla., on April 27 with the alleged intention of landing a cargo of ammunition and a body of men on the shores of Cuba, has arrived at this port with a cargo of fruit. In spite of the experiences the vessel is said to have met with she presents a trim appearance.

SILVER NEEDS A MAN

Who Will Suit All Believers, Says a Manifesto.

VIGOROUS ORGANIZATION URGED.

Upon the Wisdom of the Action of the Populist and Silver Convention Success Is Said to Depend—A Warning Against the Old Parties.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The National Silver party, through its chairman, J. J. Mott, has issued from its headquarters in this city an address to the friends of silver. This address recites that since the founding of the National Silver party on Jan. 22 last the work of organization has been steadily but quietly pursued and the country aroused to a pitch of excitement unknown since the civil war. It declares that the secret of success in the pending conflict consists in lining up for battle, and that the convention of the party to be held in St. Louis on July 22 will undoubtedly be one of the most important conventions and notable gatherings ever assembled in this country.

Upon the wisdom of its acts, and that of the People's party convention to be held at the same place and time depends, the address declares, "the vital question as to whether we can have a just settlement of this money issue in our generation." The friends of the party are urged to push the work of organization with all possible vigor, the purpose being to unite for action all believers in the restoration of "free silver and prosperity." The address concludes as follows:

"The Republican party is committed to the gold standard through the platform of 80 per cent of the state conventions, and any straddle that may be made in its national platform will deceive no one.

"The Democratic party must not expect the country to accept any candidate it may name acquiesced in by the gold wing of that party.

The question of vital importance is for silver men to name a candidate for president whose nomination will be readily acquiesced in by all believers in monetary reform.

"Friends of silver, look to your interests and organize now while the fruit is ripe for picking. Do not wait on the problematical action of any party."

CHANGE IN REPRESENTATION.

Congressman Acheson Urging Action by the St. Louis Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The question of a change in the representation to future national conventions is likely to come up before the Republican convention at St. Louis.

Representative Acheson of Pennsylvania has been in consultation with Senator Quay, who is thoroughly in accord with the proposition made by National Committeeman N. B. Scott of West Virginia and submitted to the national committee three years ago.

He offered a resolution providing that representation of the various congressional districts in future national conventions be based upon the Republican vote polled therein, one delegate being allotted to each district for each 7,000 votes, with an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding half thereof, each district to have at least one delegate.

Mr. Acheson has prepared a statement and tables, showing the changes that would be made by the adoption of the new basis of representation. It is proposed, when the delegation reaches St. Louis to have a caucus and act upon the new scheme. If it is endorsed, then Governor Hastings, as spokesman for the delegation, will present it to the convention.

Mr. Acheson said that Judge Ewing of Uniontown first proposed the plan in the convention of 1884. Based on the vote of 1884 Congressman Acheson said the convention of 1900 would contain 120 more delegates than the convention of this year, providing that the representation of Utah and the territories remain as at present. The gain in delegates in 26 states is 199, and the loss in 15 states is 79.

The membership of the St. Louis convention will be 918. If the Republican vote in the several districts this year averages the same as in 1894 the representation in the next convention will, therefore, be 1,088.

Pennsylvania would gain 23 votes and Ohio 17.

NOT A SILVER FIGHT.

The Contest in Carlisle's Old District Is Explained.

NEWPORT, Ky., June 1.—Much has been published about Secretary Carlisle's old district, the sixth, being carried Saturday for free silver. This (Kenton) county, the home of Secretary Carlisle, has two contesting delegations to the state convention. The county delegation favorable to Carlisle is not instructed, but it is believed that it will be seated by the free silver state convention at Lexington this week, although the other Kenton county delegation is instructed for free silver.

Campbell county, the home of Congressman Albert Berry of Newport, is instructed for a gold standard and contested. The contest in Kenton county is more over the two county committees claiming control than over the silver issue and on either question it is believed that what is known as the Carlisle-Gobel delegation will be seated even by those opposed to Carlisle's financial views.

QUAY NOW CONCEDES IT.

He Says McKinley Has Nineteen Votes Sure to Spare.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senator Quay has decided to bray over his rule and make public the result of the contest for delegates to the St. Louis convention. During the contest he has declined to make public any of his estimates or figures. However, as the contest is over and there are so many contradictory estimates in circulation, the senator decided to make his figure public.

They show that Major McKinley will have 479 votes on the first ballot at St. Louis, or 19 more than enough. This counts those that may make a break for the band wagon between now and June 16.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

St. Paul Making Big Preparations to Entertain Old Soldiers.

ST. PAUL, June 1.—The citizens' committee is making big preparations to entertain the members of the G. A. R. at the thirtieth national encampment in this city the first week in September. The railroads have all agreed to a 1-cent-a-mile rate and the usual limitation.

Veterans will be provided with free quarters in the school buildings. Cots or mattresses will be furnished in the free quarters, but no blankets. Hot water will not be changed, and will range from $1 to $5 per day. The accommodations committee will furnish a list of hotels and boarding houses on request. Early and definite information is desired as to the number of comrades from each department who will expect free quarters during the encampment. The accommodations committee can actually provide for all, but there should be a delay in applying. A veterans camp will be established at University avenue and St. Albans street, near four lines of street cars. It will be equipped with water service and other conveniences and good meals will be served at reasonable rates. Space will be provided adjacent to the veterans camp for those who desire to bring tents, etc., for private camping parties. Mr. C. W. Hoot is chairman of the accommodations committee, and Joe L. Brigham is secretary. Their mail address is room 539 Edmund building.

The route of the G. A. R. parade Sept. 3 is fixed. It embraces portions of the best residence and business streets, is less than two miles long, a down grade, on asphalt pavements, and free from street car tracks except at one or three street crossings. Division will form on shaded residence streets.

TROUBLE IN SISTERSVILLE.

Her Revenue From Fines Seized From Liquor Dealers.

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., June 1.—A variety theater on lower Charles street, "The Columbia," for the third time this month, has been assessed a fine of $102.02, and ordered to close the same premises.

Manager Sullivan says he will continue business, regardless of Mayor Gardner's orders, until his funds are exhausted, and then will institute proceedings against every person in town who is selling liquor.

This city, though it has, by vote of the county under local option law, been legally dry for five years, sells more liquor than any town in the state. Dozens of splendidly furnished saloons and gambling rooms run wide open, proprietors being arrested and fined $100 and costs on the first of each month. From this revenue all the town's streets have been paved, water works built, electric light system established and metropolitan police force maintained.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JUNE 1.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Ohio.

MCKINLEY.

McKinley marched in the ranks with the members of his post at Canton on Saturday. He did honor to himself by so doing. And it was not for effect. His life demonstrates the fact. All honor to our next president, he of the rank and file of the sixties.

STILL THEY COME.

And now cometh M. S. Quay, the astute politician of the Keystone State, with the assertion that McKinley will be nominated on the first ballot. Matthew S. evidently knoweth the cause of his prophecy. That little visit to the next president hath already born fruit.

PRECEPT VERSUS PRACTICE.

The man who professes the gospel and uses burning words of eloquence while in the church, and fails to face the music in everyday life, when the enemies of God and of right are trampling upon all law, human and divine, is a broken reed and unfit to be a leader of true men and women. This is an unanswerable truth, and time will demonstrate it to be a fact.

SONS OF VETERANS.

The Sons of Veterans were on hand for the performance of duty on Saturday. They can well be proud of the gallant acts performed by their fathers, and take pride in the thought of emulating the deeds of their sires. We understand that the local camp contemplates taking measures looking to the perfection of drill and of manual, and becoming versed in the duties common to camp and field. They could not make a better move, as it would aid materially in strengthening their numbers and giving them the prestige which ever attends skill and success. We understand that the camp is in splendid working order.

THE VETERANS.

They lined up in good shape in the ranks on Saturday last, and, despite the fact that 35 years have passed since some of them first put on the harness of war in the sixties, a number of them could yet be depended upon to do good and faithful service for Uncle Sam in case of necessity. Age will tell, however, and the large majority of the old comrades would, in case of war with a foreign power, be placed on duty in forts and redoubts, as they could not stand the fatigue consequent upon camp and march. God bless the veterans of the late war who did their duty, for, as a rule, the good soldier makes the good citizen—that is, the volunteer soldier.

BASE BALL.

East Liverpool can call together a splendid array of talent in the formation of a strong club, and those who take pride and pleasure in the national game should concentrate their efforts in the makeup of a nine which would be able to hold its own with all visiting amateur organizations. The Acmes, playing here on Saturday last, were not in the first class, and their showing was so poor against the local talent, that lovers of close contests were anything but pleased. The home management should see to it that we have foemen worthy of our steel, even if our club is compelled to yield to an occasional defeat, or the battle will lose its interest to patrons. The ladies were out in force on Saturday afternoon, and many of them are becoming acquainted with the fine points of the game.

TRUE CITIZENS.

The ministers who attended council at its last session and entered protest against the 11 o'clock closing ordinance are men of the right stamp and mould, and worthy of the love, respect and esteem of all good, true and law-abiding citizens. Rev. J. C. Taggart pleaded for the shorter hours as a restriction against the awful curse of the liquor traffic, stating that he would not even be satisfied with the early closing hour, as he was in favor of total prohibition; but he deemed a half loaf better than no bread. He warned the councilmen who advocated the longer hours that he had done his duty in the premises, and that the burden of sin would rest upon them, and they would be compelled to answer for it. Rev. John Lloyd Lee was in attendance and upheld his fellow minister in his work. All honor be to these gallant and true soldiers of the Master. They practice what they preach. Several ministers were absent from the city and could not be in attendance upon council.

STORY WITHOUT END.

MYSTERY OF TWO BEINGS WHO CROSSED THE NARRATOR'S PATH.

The Handsome Young Pathan Prisoner
Whose Knife Was Stained With Blood,
The Young Girl Who Presented a Silver
Ring—Were the Two Connected?

It was on the 2d of January, 1879, that General Roberts left Hazer Pir Ziarat to subdue the Khost district, an unsophisticated country where the revenue had hitherto been collected in copper, and up to this date the semblance of the rupee had not been known.

Hazer Pir Ziarat (the shrine of a thousand saints—literally old men) was hardly even a village, and only the day preceding some six or seven had been added to the number of saints, as a batch of murderous marauders had been executed, and dying in the faith, shouting the fatmah and acknowledging nothing but piety in their attempts on infidel life, their corpses had doubtless rendered their graves sanctified ground, and so added to the Ziarat—in these parts a holy grove, generally of olive, to fell which is desecration.

As the Tenth Hussars spread cheerily into order covering the advance, their bright pouch belt buckles (the last glitter left after even stirrups had been dulled) sparkling in the bright sunlight as they thrashed among the camel thorn sprinkled over the plain, the writer diverged from the advance, having to convey with a small escort of cavalry and infantry a long train of some 900 empty camels ordered to the advance base to fill up with supplies. My way lay among hills bordering the right bank of the Kurram river, and I soon lost sight of the force moving on Matoun and finished the day's march without any adventure. On the 3d of January the incidents befell which I now seek to narrate.

In a lonely valley a party of my Sikh infantry brought before me a Pathan prisoner, saying: "Here is a man who has been caught concealing his arms. It has been ordered by General Roberts that all such shall be dispatched. May we kill him?"

Now, this was a hard saying.

The young man appeared by his head-gear to be a Waziri, a not unfriendly tribe, which, however, furnished not a few lawless depredators. His only arm was the long Afghan knife, necessary for his own protection perhaps, and in the cold weather it appeared not unnatural that he should wrap himself in his thin outer colored scarf, worn somewhat after the fashion of a plaid. His face was handsome, open and fearless, but such was the mien of all Afghans—often seen on the most cold blooded fiends.

I could not, however, though determined to fulfill the spirit of instructions, at once hand him over to the bayonet, and, saying, "Oh, his knife is only for harmless use or protection," I took it from him and drew it. It was thickly coated with fairly fresh blood.

For a moment I could have handed him over to death, but reason told me that this was no additional evidence of murder. He might have slain a goat or sheep, he might have met an enemy in fair fight—questions of course were useless. Finally, with some misgivings as to whether I was strictly obeying orders and amid the scowls and murmurs of the Sikhs, who were quite strange to my command, I gave the young man back his knife and sent him on his way.

He left gracefully and courteously, showing neither in his smiling face nor in his elastic gait one single sign of guilt or fear, and soon his erect figure was lost to my view over the brow of a low hill.

Some hours of march followed, and the care of massing the long, unwieldy line of camels in a column on each small plain, before again filing the next pass, a precaution necessary to enable my rear guard to be within hail in case of attack on so tempting and easy a prey, fully absorbed me and drove the preceding incident clean from my head.

Suddenly I became aware of a young Pathan girl running beside my horse and holding up to me a silver ring set with a turquoise. This seemed to me a very unusual act from a Mussulman and a Pathan, where seclusion is so strictly the rule, and I had no idea as to the meaning she wished to convey, my Pushtoo being unequal to the dialect she spoke, and indeed scanty enough at all times. However, seeing that I was meant to take the ring, I did so, the girl, about 17, showing that she meant I should take it from her. Even then she made no effort to leave, and so, imagining perhaps that she wanted money for some purpose, I offered her a few rupees, which she refused petulantly. I turned to the Hindoo sowars who rode behind me and asked what it all meant, but they only laughed unpleasantly, as if to say, "What can a Mussulman and a woman man except what is contemptible?" so that, angry at their scorn and possible misconceptions, I flung the girl back her ring and bade her begone. She left, muttering and apparently still anxious to explain, but a troop of horsemen now appeared on the plain, and whirling their long lances round their heads cantered shouting toward us. The Sikh infantry closed their files and prepared to receive them, and I went forward to reconnoiter them more closely.

They turned out to be a friendly "jirgah," or deputation, seeking General Roberts, but this fresh incident drove the last again from my thoughts, and later on I concluded my march without further befalling.

It was not till weeks after that I thought of connecting the act of the girl with a possible wish to express gratitude for the husband or lover who had such a narrow escape at my hands. But I never heard any further explanation, nor did those who knew best the Afghan character think this interpretation a likely one.

I suppose I shall never know more of the two beings who on that day only literally crossed my path.—United Service Magazine.

DISMAL IN ST. LOUIS.

Thousands Visit Ruins In a Drizzling Rain.

FUNERALS CROWD THE STREETS.

The Morgue Filled With People Trying to Identify Bodies—Others There Through Morbid Curiosity—Railroads Run Excursions—Victims Number 456.

St. Louis, June 1.—Every railroad entering this storm stricken city ran excursion trains Sunday. They brought scores of thousands to view the devastation and ruin wrought by the awful storm of Wednesday. The streets of the ruined district were thronged with visitors all day. They came from almost every town and city within a radius of 300 miles and nearly all day a cold drizzling rain fell. Lowering, threatening clouds covered the sky and a more dismal scene than the ruined portion of this city presented could scarcely be imagined. And through the crowded streets all day long came funeral processions. Nearly 100 burial permits were issued by the health department and every hearse in the city was in use.

At early dawn people began to crowd into the city morgue. Many came in search of friends, but for the most part people who visited there were drawn by a morbid desire to see the mangled corpses of the unfortunate victims of the tornado. All day long the officers on duty were busy keeping the people moving in line and out of the viewing room of the morgue. Every few minutes some one would think they had discovered some one whom they knew among the bodies exposed for view.

Superintendent Mack of the morgue had a trying time in answering questions in regard to the bodies, and taking names and descriptions of persons who have not been seen by their friends since the storm. There were people there from points in all directions, far and near—Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, Kansas City and scores of smaller places were represented. From such towns came anxious people inquiring for lost friends.

The mayor of East St. Louis, after careful estimates, fixes the loss of property in that city from the storm at $2,500,000.

Competent authorities in this city say the loss on this side of the Mississippi will not be over $10,000,000. The following is a nearly correct table of the killed, wounded and missing in the two cities:

FIFTEEN WERE KILLED.

The Big Storm Played Havoc Near Carlyle, Ill.

St. Louis, June 1.—Additional reports received at Carlyle, Ill., of the havoc wrought in that vicinity by the tornado Wednesday evening continue to swell the list of dead and injured. Richview and Ashley suffered severe losses.

Oakville, 18 miles south of Carlyle, was visited. Rain fell in torrents, swelling the small streams to rivers. Shade trees are strewn in profusion over the town. Emma Krause, aged 19, has died. Her parents were killed. This makes the total number of dead 15. The storm came from the northwest toward Masconah. The territory between the two places was untouched. At New Minden it assumed a southeasterly course and destroyed that place, but skipped Hoytton, which is situated between there and Richview.

The value of property destroyed in New Baden, New Minden, Richview, Ashley and Oakville and vicinity is said to exceed $300,000. Among those killed were: Robert Foster, Mrs. Conell and infant, farm hand, name unknown, Samuel Oliver.

CLOUDBURST IN MISSOURI.

Two Families Drowned and Houses Inundated at Seneca.

SENECA, Mo., June 1.—The district of Seneca's flood disaster of Saturday presents a picture of desolation. Cherokee avenue, the principal business street is divided in two sections by the loss of the iron bridge which spanned Lost creek. Searching parties are constantly beating either side the stream in search of missing citizens, who are evidently drowned. Of the 18 of the drowned, 14 have been taken from the water. About 100 homes were inundated and two of these, those of Messrs. Andreas and Schmidt, were carried down the stream and every member of the families drowned. A number of families have lost all and are destitute. Many farmers along the course of Lost creek lost their crops. The total loss is above $50,000.

The Steamer Ironsides Sunk.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 1.—The steamer Ironsides has struck a large stone in the Ohio river 15 miles below here and sank in five feet of water at what is known as the Lee Creek riffle. She was owned in Pittsburgh and worth $21,000.

A Catholic Priest Honored.

DUBUQUE, Ia., June 1.—The Very Rev. Roger Ryan, vicar general of the Catholic diocese of the Dubuque, was Sunday invested with the purple robes of the domestic prelate of the papal household, and the title Monsignor.

Brick Fomeroy Dead.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Mark Miles (Brick) Fomeroy, formerly publisher of the La Crosse (Wis.) Democrat and Fomeroy's Democrat of this city, has died at his home in Brooklyn.

MORGAN HAS LOST HOPE.

He Now Expects No Action Favorable to the Cubans.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senator Morgan of the senate committee on foreign relations and author of the joint resolution recognizing the recognition of a state of war in Cuba and declaring the neutrality of the United States, when asked concerning the probability of securing action upon the resolution before adjournment said:

"Unless the house should act upon Mr. Hyde's resolution, which is identical with the resolution offered by me in the senate, that is now held up in the committee on foreign relations, considerable action is possible. That responsibility will doubtless hasten the dispersion of some senators. The disposition of the majority of the senate committee is to devolve upon the president a responsibility that he is evidently eager to assume. Congress has practically ceased to be a factor in the government, except in the case of a veto, when the constitution permits it to act finally by a two-thirds vote. Even this function is denied when it is applied to our foreign political relations."

MAY ADJOURN THURSDAY.

Senators Trying to Make It the Last Week.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The senate began the week with the intention of making it the last of the session if possible. Some senators put the day of adjournment as early as Thursday of the present week, while others place it on Saturday, and still others think it will be impossible to conclude before the first days of next week.

The imperative work before the senate in order to reach adjournment is to dispose of the conference report on the ordinary appropriation bills, to vote upon the bond prohibitory bill and to consider the proposition to pass the river and harbor bill over the president's veto, in case the bill receives the necessary two-thirds vote in the house to bring it to the senate. Some senators, probably a majority, also feel that they are under obligations to press the filled cheese bill to a final issue, but there is a sufficiently strong minority opposed to this measure to prevent congress remaining in session for the sole purpose of passing, after the appropriation bills are out of the way.

Killed at a Rifle Range.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 1.—A terrible tragedy occurred at the rifle range of the Ninth regiment, national guards of Pennsylvania, at Pottsville, Pa., at noon. The members of Company E were at practice, and Obediah Rhoades, the fifth sergeant of the company, was looking after the targets. He gave a signal to fire, and then raised his head above the danger line. The large crowd was horrified to see a bullet from the rifle of John Hipple strike him in the head, killing him instantly.

Death of Miss Kate Field.

CHICAGO, June 1.—H. H. Kohlsaat, proprietor of the Chicago Times-Herald, has received a cable message dated Yokohama, and signed by Lorrin A. Thurston, ex-minister to the United States from the Sandwich Islands, which said: "Kate Field died at Honolulu, May 19, of pneumonia." Miss Field was the newspaper writer.

The Steamer Bermuda Safe.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—The steamer Bermuda, which left Jacksonville, Fla., on April 27 with the alleged intention of landing a cargo of ammunition and a body of men on the shores of Cuba, has arrived at this port with a cargo of fruit. In spite of the experiences the vessel is said to have met with she presents a trim appearance.

SILVER NEEDS A MAN

Who Will Suit All Believers, Says a Manifesto.

VIGOROUS ORGANIZATION URGED.

Upon the Wisdom of the Action of the Populist and Silver Convention Success Is Said to Depend—A Warning Against the Old Parties.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The National Silver party, through its chairman, J. J. Mott, has issued from its headquarters in this city an address to the friends of silver. This address recites that since the founding of the National Silver party on Jan. 23 last the work of organization has been steadily but quietly pursued and the country aroused to a pitch of excitement unknown since the civil war. It declares that the secret of success in the pending conflict consists in lining up for battle, and that the convention of the party to be held in St. Louis on July 22 will undoubtedly be one of the most important conventions and notable gatherings ever assembled in this country.

Upon the wisdom of its acts, and that of the People's party convention to be held at the same place and time depends, the address declares, "the vital question as to whether we can have a just settlement of this money issue in our generation." The friends of the party are urged to push the work of organization with all possible vigor, the purpose being to unite for action all believers in the restoration of "free silver and prosperity." The address concludes as follows:

"The Republican party is committed to the gold standard through the platform of 80 per cent of the state conventions, and any straddle that may be made in its national platform will deceive no one.

"The Democratic party must not expect the country to accept any candidate it may name acquiesced in by the gold wing of that party.

The question of vital importance is for silver men to name a candidate for president whose nomination will be readily acquiesced in by all believers in monetary reform.

"Friends of silver, look to your interests and organize now while the fruit is ripe for picking. Do not wait on the problematical action of any party."

CHANGE IN REPRESENTATION.

Congressman Acheson Urging Action by the St. Louis Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The question of a change in the representation to future national conventions is likely to come up before the Republican convention at St. Louis.

Representative Acheson of Pennsylvania has been in consultation with Senator Quay, who is thoroughly in accord with the proposition made by National Committeeman N. B. Scott of West Virginia and submitted to the national committee three years ago.

He offered a resolution providing that representation of the various congressional districts in future national conventions be based upon the Republican vote polled therein, one delegate being allotted to each district for each 7,000 votes, with an additional delegate for a fraction exceeding half thereof, each district to have at least one delegate.

Mr. Acheson has prepared a statement and tables, showing the changes that would be made by the adoption of the new basis of representation. It is proposed, when the delegation reaches St. Louis to have a caucus and act upon the new scheme. If it is endorsed, then Governor Hastings, as spokesman for the delegation, will present it to the convention.

Mr. Acheson said that Judge Ewing of Ohio was first proposed the plan in the convention of 1884. Based on the vote of 1884 Congressman Acheson said the convention of 1900 would contain 120 more delegates than the convention of this year, providing that the representation of Utah and the territories remain as at present. The gain in delegates in 20 states is 199, and the loss in 15 states is 79.

The membership of the St. Louis convention will be 918. If the Republican average the same as in 1894 the representation in the next convention will, therefore, be 1,038.

Pennsylvania would gain 23 votes and Ohio 17.

NOT A SILVER FIGHT.

The Contest in Carlisle's Old District Is Explained.

NEWPORT, Ky., June 1.—Much has been published about Secretary Carlisle's old district, the sixth, being carried Saturday for free silver. This (Kenton) county, the home of Secretary Carlisle, has two contesting delegations to the state convention. The county delegation favorable to Carlisle is not instructed, but it is believed that it will be seated by the free silver state convention at Lexington this week, although the other Kenton county delegation is instructed for free silver.

Campbell county, the home of Congressman Albert Berry of Newport, is instructed for a gold standard and is contested. The contest in Kenton county is more over the two county committees claiming control than over the silver issue and on either question it is believed that what is known as the Carlisle-Goebel delegation will be seated even by those opposed to Carlisle's financial views.

QUAY NOW CONCEDES IT.

He Says McKinley Has Nineteen Votes Sure to Spare.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senator Quay has decided to break over his rule and make public the result of the contest for delegates to the St. Louis convention. During the contest he religiously declined to make public any of his estimates or figures. However, as the contest is over and there are so many contradictory estimates in circulation, the senator decided to make his figure public.

They show that Major McKinley will have 479 votes on the first ballot at St. Louis, or 19 more than enough. The counts show that may make a break for the hand wagon between now and June 16.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

St. Paul Making Big Preparations to Entertain Old Soldiers.

St. Paul, June 1.—The citizens' committee is making big preparations to entertain the members of the G. A. R. at the thirtieth national encampment in this city the first week in September. The railroads have all agreed to a cent-a-mile rate and the usual limitation.

Veterans will be provided with free quarters in the school buildings. Cots or mattresses will be furnished in these free quarters, but no blankets. Rates will not be changed, and will vary from $1 to $5 per day. The accommodations committee will furnish a list of hotels and boarding houses on request. Early and definite information is desired as to the number of comrades from each department who will expect free quarters during the encampment. The accommodations committee can suitably provide for all, but there should be no delay in applying. A veterans camp will be established at University avenue and St. Albans street, near four lines street cars. It will be equipped with water service and other conveniences, and good meals will be served at reasonable rates. Space will be provided adjacent to the veterans camp for those who desire to bring tents, etc., for private camping parties. Mr. C. W. Egan is chairman of the accommodations committee, and Joe L. Brigham is secretary. Their mail address is room 520 Edison building.

The route of the G. A. R. past Sept. 2 is fixed. It embraces portions of the best residence and business streets, is less than two miles long, down grade, on asphalt pavements, and free from street car tracks except at one or three street crossings. Division will form on shaded residence streets.

TROUBLE IN SISTERSVILLE.

Her Revenue From Fines Seized From Liquor Dealers.

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., June 1.—A variety theater on lower Charles street, "The Columbia," for the third time this month, has been assessed a fine of $102.02, and ordered to close the entire premises. Manager Sullivan says he will continue business, regardless of Mayor Gardner's orders, until his funds are exhausted, and then will institute proceedings against every person in town who is selling liquor.

This city, though it has, by vote of the county under local option law, been legally dry for five years, sells more liquor than any town in the state. Dozens of splendidly furnished saloons and gambling rooms run wide open, the proprietors being arrested and fined $100 and costs on the first of each month. From this revenue all the town's streets have been paved, water works built, electric light system established and metropolitan police force maintained.

SOME SPORTING NOTES

Mercer Pitches Good Ball at Pittsburgh.

GOOD WORDS FOR GEORGE CAREY

Mike Lynch Expects to be Home by the 12th of June—Twaddle Played at East Palestine Saturday and the Eclipse Have a Game Booked.

Winner Mercer has evidently recovered his lost effectiveness as he held the Pittsburgh team down to eight hits and one run Saturday, and gave only two bases on balls. A large crowd of Liverpool rooters were present to cheer him on in his good work. The Washington correspondent to the Sporting Life in speaking of that Cincinnati game says:

"There was music, and an imitation Christmas matinee, with gifts of a handsome gold watch for William Joyce, a gold handled umbrella for Demontreville and a dainty ribbon-bound box containing some mysterious something for Win Mercer. While all this was going on the Reds presented themselves with the game. Mercer, the invincible, who pitched in 10 winning games out of 11, was sent to the front and met his Waterloo. It was clearly an off day for the clever twirler, for, aside from having poor control, he was handled without gloves by the hitters from the Rhine."

The Pittsburgh Leader says: "The one particular star that shone at Exposition park yesterday was one Mercer, surnamed Winnie, he of Crocker City fame. In the baseball almanac yesterday Mr. Mercer was only put down as an afternoon star, but he made up for his absence in the morning by proving himself a star of the first magnitude. In fact, when the sun went down last night old Urs Majoris, who has beamed down upon the residents of Pittsburgh and vicinity for many a year, hung his head in shame, and was completely eclipsed by the brightness of Mercer's work. Mercer has pitched here before, but seldom has done as fine work as he accomplished yesterday afternoon. In the nine innings which constituted the game he allowed the Pirates but eight hits, and by some unknown adeptness he kept those so well scattered that the local team could get but one man across the plate. It must be admitted that some remarkable fielding was done behind Mercer, but just the same he pitched a game that pleased the 11,000 spectators, although their favorites were getting much the worst of it."

By winning Saturday's game Mercer has won 11 out of the 16 games won this season by the Washington's, and has lost only two of the 18 games in which they have been defeated, so it will be readily seen by these figures that he is the league's greatest pitcher, and has a record that East Liverpool should be proud of.

The Eclipse team have booked a game with the Nonpareil Athletic club of Beaver Falls, and will play them at Junction park on June 6. The boys will take with them a strong team and are confident of winning the game.

Mercer came home on the midnight train Saturday and will remain until Tuesday evening.

Bert Irons won the one-mile bicycle race, 2:50 class, at Youngstown Saturday in 2:29.

Jack Darrah spent Sunday in the city. He is well pleased with the showing made by Wheeling in the Interstate league.

The Columbus, of East End, were defeated in two games at East Palestine Saturday.

The Syracuse man says: "It is needless to say that first baseman George Carey has caught the popular fancy. Carey's first base play is the sort that pleases. The visiting players sit on the bench and wonder at his work."

A letter received from Mike Lynch Saturday says that he is playing nice ball, but don't like the town of Corning, and thinks that he will be home by the middle of this week at the farthest, if he don't catch on with some of the Eastern teams.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my housework. Mrs. W. L. Dunagan, Bonanza, Hickman co., Tenn. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THE ACMES WERE EASY.

Since they have been chased out of the lane they take up quarters on the railing along the roadway and along the Horn switch.

Kennedy's second base play Saturday was indeed a feature of the game, as he accepted 9 out of 10 chances in the afternoon game in a handsome manner.

The Acmes were of the opinion that East Liverpool had the fastest outfield of any amateur club they had ever seen.

The team Saturday played together better than they have ever done before, every man playing his position in fine style.

The visitors were of the opinion that Albright would be an easy mark after the first inning, but soon changed their minds.

McShane pitched an elegant game in the morning, and Baxter, as catcher, made an excellent showing.

Finch didn't have a passed ball, and caught in a style equal to any amateur catcher in this section.

The team booked for next Saturday is the strong Youngstown team, and an interesting contest can be looked for.

FIVE WERE HILARIOUS

And Paid Up Handsomely for their Fun.

BURROWS ADMITTED HIS GUILT

And Will be Taken to Lisbon—He Wishes to Make a Good Appearance Before the Judge and Requested Permission to Get His Sunday Clothing—Police Court.

Memorial Day was observed in a decidedly unpatriotic manner by five individuals, who celebrated the occasion by getting drunk and acting in an unpropitious way. The officers gathered them in, and they each had a hearing and were fined for being drunk and disorderly. Following are the names:

Thomas McKeever, arrested by Chief Johnson and taken to the lockup in the patrol. He was fined $7.

F. Gourley was taken in custody by Fireman Terrence for being intoxicated, and it cost him $6.75 for his little indulgence.

Officer Meanor picked up Ed Doran, who was found in a comatose condition. He was conveyed to the city hall and fined $6.00.

Dan Swartz, arrested by Officer Jennings, was also assessed $6.00, and Unknown Smith taken in charge by Fireman McMillan, was taxed $6.75.

After sobering up, the above coterie of offenders were arraigned and fined. They were all fairly supplied with funds and in every instance the fines were paid.

Friday afternoon Captain Thomas McCleary, of the Ford City, who had a warrant issued for the arrest of Sydney Burrows, for the theft of a gold watch and chain, valued at $300, came down from Pittsburgh in response to a telegram from Mayor Gilbert. When confronted by his accuser, Burrows at first stoutly denied that he had taken the watch and chain, but upon being questioned further, he admitted having been guilty of the theft, and said that he had sold the watch to a man for $15, who had sent it as a gift to a relative in England. The person was seen and agreed to recover the watch and return it to its original owner. The chain was also sold, but it is probable that it will also be returned. The mayor bound Burrows over to court, and he will be taken away tomorrow. He says that when taken before the judge he will plead guilty, and he repeatedly asked to be permitted to go to his former boarding house to get a suit of clothes, with which he proposes to make a favorable impression on the judge, and thereby lessen the severity of the sentence that will be imposed upon him.

John Allison, who has been confined in the jail since circus day, is working his fine out by cleaning up the place.

TEETH MAKE MANY ILLS.

The Evils Which Follow Imperfect Mastication May Be Avoided.

"It would take too long to enumerate the many ills which may spring from imperfect teeth," said Dr. Derby. "Of course one who has good teeth knows their value, but not enough people know what to do to keep them always in proper condition. Neither can you tell one just what is necessary at all times. The removal of all foreign substances from any contact with the dentine is of course the primary necessity in considering the preservation of the teeth.

"One of the first reasons why one should have perfect teeth is the influence they exert over the digestion. To secure proper assimilation the process of mastication should be thorough. Nothing less will accomplish the results intended. If this process is incomplete, all the attendant evils of indigestion are likely to follow. Thus the question of health is interposed as a primary one. Freedom from aches and pains and appearance take secondary places.

"Of the many forms of neuralgia which cause such excruciating suffering a great many owe their existence entirely to the presence of faulty teeth. They can be remedied only by the proper treatment of the diseased roots. When this is done, a number of nervous disorders respond readily to the ordinary medical treatment. Toothache, pure and simple, must be considered as an attendant of improperly cared for teeth. It is an old saying that the man who finds an absolute remedy for and preventive of toothache will make a big fortune.

"Of course the primary instruction to one who is suffering from bad teeth is to a dentist. The exposed surface of the teeth, the enamel, must be kept perfect and whole. Any breaks in it must be immediately repaired and any wearing away or decaying of the structure must be built up if one expects to secure all the perfect results for which the teeth were designed by nature. Constant brushing and cleaning and any good nonacid wash will do much to keep the teeth in good repair.

"Of course you know the story of the man who, when his teeth were admired, gave the following reasons for their perfect condition: I always brush them, night and morning and after eating, and leave them in a glass of salt water while I am asleep."—San Francisco Examiner.

Boston Culture.

"Deliver us," says the Boston Traveller, "from the New Yorker's use of the letter r, as it occurs in 'church,' 'first,' 'bird' or as it appears when they pronounce the words Cuba or banana. The New Yorker speaks of his 'church,' tells how he was 'frust,' loves the pretty 'buids' and believes in the cause of 'Cuber.' We must concede that we are a bit off in a few words, 'grass' being one of them. The New Yorker pronounces grass as it is spelled, the Bostonian draws it out as 'grasse.' For all our shortcomings there is less slurring in our pronunciation than in any other city, and it is a well known fact among our English cousins of the better sort that Bostonians speak cleaner English than citizens from any other city of the Union."

A Division of Labor.

The statesman who is new to public life had been interviewed, and he felt nervous.
